History

The BSJ began initially as a soccer satire website named failmuch.com in March 2015. After 6 months, the site began to produce political Canadian and U.S. satire and as of March 2016 the terribly-named FM News was closed down and the Canadian satire site, the Burrard Street Journal was born. Within its first year the BS Journal has been read by millions of people across the world, with a regular viewership in the hundreds of thousands each month. The site has been featured on The New York Times, NBC News, Global News, CBC News, The Daily Mail and our own personal favourite, hausarbeit ghostwriter Sean Hannity, amongst others...

How to identify Fake News

10 steps

1. Do a visual assessment

Assess the overall design. Fake news sites often look amateurish, have a lot of annoying ads, and use altered or stolen images.

Overall, does the news article and website seem high quality?

Yes

☐

No

☐

2. Identify the news outlet

The Wall Street Journal and CNN are examples of news outlets. If you haven't heard of the news outlet, search online for more information.

Is the news outlet well known, well respected, and trustworthy?

Yes

☐

No

☐

3. Check the web domain

Many fake news URLs look odd or end with ".com.co" or ".lo" (e.g., abcnews.com.co) to mimic legitimate news sites.

Does the URL seem legitimate?

Yes

☐

No

☐

4. Check the "About us" section

Trustworthy news outlets usually include detailed background information, policy statements, and email contacts in the "About/About Us" section.

Does the site provide detailed background information and contacts?

Yes

☐

No

☐

5. Identify the author

Fake news articles often don't include author names. If included, search the author's name online to see if he or she is well known or respected.

Does the article have a trusted author?

Yes

☐

No

☐

6. Identify the central message

Read the article carefully. Fake news articles often push one viewpoint, have an angry tone, or make outrageous claims.

Does the article seem fair, balanced and reasonable?

Yes

☐

No

☐

7. Assess spelling, grammar, and punctuation

If the article has misspelled words, words in ALL CAPS, poor grammar, or lots of "!!!!", it's probably unreliable.

Does the article have proper spelling grammar, and punctuation?

Yes

☐

No

☐

8. Analyze sources and quotes

Consider the article's sources and who is quoted. Fake news articles often cite anonymous sources, unreliable sources, or no sources at all.

Does the article include and identify reliable sources?

Yes

☐

No

☐

9. Find other articles

Search the internet for more articles on the same topic. If you can't find any, chances are the story is fake.

Are there multiple articles by other news outlets on this topic?

Yes

☐

No

☐

10. Turn to other fact checkers

FactCheck.org, Snopes.com, PolitiFact.com are widely used trusted fact-checking websites.

Do the fact checkers say the story is true?

Yes

☐

No

☐
